General Pershing Finds Task as Mediator for Chile and Peru Difficult

Washington, D. C.—The United States government is thoroughly tired of its job as mediator in the Tagna-Arica dispute between Chile and Peru and it will be many years before another intervention diplomatic or otherwise, will be coaxed out of the Washington authorities. Lately made by General Pershing is viewed either with distrust or suspicion. First one side objects that he is prejudiced and then the other shows its displeasure. Anti-American demonstrations in Peru came with the first announcement of the terms of the American plan. Now the newspapers in Chile owned by high government officials are attacking General Pershing as biased. And the truth is the American war veteran who has had many responsibilities before in his life which were greater in scope is about ready to take a ship for home.

LASTED 30 YEARS
For 30 years the controversy has been going on. Chile is in possession of the disputed provinces which originally belonged to Peru. In order to determine what shall be done with the territory, a referendum was proposed by the United States. The Peruvians claim there can be no free election if Chilean officials remain on the spot. They charge coercion. General Pershing has tried to effect the withdrawal of all Chilean military and civilian officials. Now Chile claims that's an infringement of sovereignty.

What each side wants is an assurance of victory. Anything that looks as if it might alter that result is frowned upon by Chile or Peru as the case may be.

TROUBLE AHEAD
When General Pershing does secure the consent of Chile to withdraw her officials, the trouble will begin over again for then the problem arises as to what amount of electioneering can be done. In the United States every form of persuasion is regarded as legitimate short of physical coercion. Any form of argument either by personal conversation, by letter or advertising is accepted as legal except an offer to buy votes. Now even these simple weapons will cause concern in South America because Chile has dominated the provinces and has enough Chilean business folks and representatives in the region to carry on an effective campaign. Should the result be a Chilean victory Peru may feel that America should have prevented the electioneering and kept the populace free from invasion by the Chilean orators or election workers.

Whichever way it turns, there's trouble and ill feeling ahead. Neither side considers the result except in terms of possession and every effort to divide the land equitably hitherto has failed.

MITCHELL COURT TO BE ALONE IN LIMELIGHT

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—On resuming Friday after a recess over Thanksgiving, the Mitchell court martial, which has been dividing attention with the Shenandoah naval court of inquiry will hold the stage by itself for at least several days.

The army court trying Col. Mitchell heard the defense rest its case Wednesday, just four weeks to the day from the beginning of the trial. The naval court adjourned subject to the call of its president after hearing the last witness under summons.

The naval tribunal, however, may decide to again summon Col. Mitchell as a final witness.

The instrument provides that the entire estate, valued at $900,000 be divided between his widow and three children. To Mrs. Margaret Earling he leaves one-third of his possessions the remainder to be divided equally among his three children, George P. Earling, Sherburne M. Earling and Mrs. Hattie C. Fitch.

HOW MUCH IS THE FARE TO NEWARK, BO?

Oakland, Calif.—(AP)—Newark, a town with a population of 1,000 people situated near here, has never had a doctor, dentist, undertaker, ambulance, drug store, or a cemetery.

Mayor Louis Ruschin, authority for the statement, attributes the health of the community to home cooking. Newark also is without a restaurant.

3RD ROMANCE OF ARCHITECT IS SHATTERED

Noted Sculptress Seeks Divorce from F. L. Wright, Famous Lothario

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—The romance of Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally famous architect, and Maude M. Wright, noted sculptress, that started with their flight to Japan 11 years ago has ended. She has filed suit for divorce alleging desertion and cruelty in Harbin, Wis. and it is reported an alimony agreement has been reached.

Filing of the bill brought first notice that they were married in November 1912, the day after Wright obtained a divorce from Mrs. Catherine L. Wright, Oak Park, Ill. social worker, whom Wright twice deserted, with her six children. The first desertion came in 1908 when Wright eloped with Mrs. Mamah Borthwick Cheney of Oak Park. They took up their residence at Spring Green, Wis., in a bungalow which he had fitted up at a cost of $80,000. Five years later Mrs. Cheney and her two children were murdered by a crazed Negro butler and the home was burned. During the seven years stay of Miss Noel and Wright in Japan, he designed the $3,000,000 Imperial hotel in Tokyo, one of the few buildings to resist the recent earthquake. He also has designed noted buildings in the United States.

Under the report alimony stipulation it was said Mrs. Wright is to receive a lump sum of $10,000, $250 monthly alimony and a part of the Spring Green property. Mrs. Wright who before the flight to Japan expressed contempt for "what the world might think" Wednesday night said: "I made a mistake, but I have paid for it, yet I would do it all over again. Mine was a greater tragedy than Mamah Borthwick's. She is dead but I live."

Wright, in a Chicago hotel, refused to discuss the suit.

FARRAR CANCELS OPERA, IS ILL

Five Weeks of Rehearsals Exhausts Diva.—Quits Shortly After Opening Night

Hartford, Conn.—(AP)—Geraldine Farrar, noted opera and concert singer and now star of Franz Lehr's new opera, "Romany Love Spell," is ill here. All her engagements for the next month have been cancelled. The opera was given its American premiere here Tuesday night, but Miss Farrar exhausted by five weeks of rehearsals was unable to appear last night. Patrons were turned away at the box office.

The Hartford engagement and one in New Haven have been cancelled and the company will be taken to New York there to wait the recovery of Miss Farrar.

Free From Harem, Women Of Turkey Seek Husbands

Angora.—(AP)—Hundreds of beautiful women, highly trained in the social graces, arts of the toilette, dancing, music and religion, who have been freed from harems, now have the Turkish government seeking husbands for them. Most of them are wholly unfitted for the practical work of life. Abandonment of the harem also placed on the hands of the government many eunuchs, but their disposition has not been so difficult. In the absence of regular employment in the cities, they have been sent to the provincial districts for work on the farms.

When President Mustapha Kemal assumed power in Angora, one of his first official acts was to banish the harems and slave households of Sul-

New Medical Triumphs Will Help Average Man Live To Be 100, Says Dr. Mayo

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The average length of human life will soon be 100 years.

Cancer will eventually be entirely under the control of medical science. Tuberculosis will be a rare ailment. Good health will be the heritage of every person in America.

These are the outstanding declarations in an interview by Dr. William Mayo, world famous surgeon, who with his brother conducts the great clinic that has made the little town of Rochester, Minn., known throughout the earth.

"Modern medicine," he began, "that in the last 40 years has given humanity a life-span increase from an average of 42 years to 58 years is on the threshold of discoveries compared to which all the marvels of medicine that have gone before are mere child's play."

"Medicine will conquer the infinitesimally small, and a normal life expectancy of 100 years is by no means a fantastic dream."

"America's physicians and surgeons are wide awake and alert in their fight for public health. They know what they are doing and are becoming more expert day by day. Less and less the public is accepting disease and death as divine visitations and the will of God. It was only through our own indiscretions that disease has shortened life. The doctors are making us get back to the Bible teachings."

The famous physician leaned forward in his chair and almost shouted the word "Cancer!"

"I know that it can be cured now in its earlier stages and it is often being cured in surgery after the early stages are past," he said.

"Medicine is divided into two camps on cancer. One camp believes that cancer comes to the human body

Dr. William Mayo comes of a family that apparently thinks the practice of medicine is the only profession worth following.

Since 1627 all of his direct ancestors have been doctors. His brother is a doctor. His daughters have married doctors. His nephews are doctors and all of his nieces have married doctors.

from the outside. The other camp works on the belief that cancer is produced inside the human body.

"I would not say that I am completely allied to either camp. Cancer is a worldwide problem, and we know this, at least—that it comes in many cases from irritations."

"The Chinese, for example, shave their heads with rough razors. Cancer of the scalp is extraordinarily prevalent in China."

"Go to Australia. There where

sand is blown into the face by the hot wind under a blazing sun, you will find cancer of the face prevalent.

"Go further into the orient, into Kashmir where the men climb in a couple of days from the damp valleys to the piercing cold of the high mountain passes, and you find them wearing basket-like arrangements strapped across the abdomen and containing hot charcoal. Cancer of the lower abdomen is extremely prevalent there."

"Locomotive engineers who sit year after year with one leg close to the firebox show a strong tendency to develop cancer of the shin. Once there was a smoker's cancer on the lips and tongue particularly among smokers of the old-fashioned clay pipe. But clay pipes are so little used now that I have one case of smokers' cancer where we used to have a hundred."

So we find that something always goes ahead of cancer, seemingly. And modern medicine is working against cancer from both sides and is closing in on it.

And in tuberculosis public education in sanitation and health has done wonders. We know that we are getting rid of tuberculosis by stamping out the conditions that bring it. And we are checking cancer by stopping it before it is cancer.

"I lay it down as an absolute rule that every human being, from earliest childhood, should go to a doctor for a complete and thorough examination once a year at the very least. It humbly did that there is no way of estimating the human lives that would be saved and lengthened."

Then Dr. Mayo turned to prohibition. He explained that lack of a reliable data prevented him from saying what part of America's improvement in general health is due to prohibition, and declared:

"It was pure water that made prohibition in America not any moral issue or political policy. I was in Vienna when that city first got pure drinking water, brought down to the city from the mountain springs. The Viennese suddenly learned that they could drink water without fear of sickness or death. In ten years after that the consumption of wines and beers in Vienna decreased 40 per cent."

"National prohibition is not a failure. Prohibition, as it now exists in America is only a process of educating the American people to the need of prohibition, and experiment leading to the institution of an established means of governmental control over intoxicating liquors."

The famous surgeon then took occasion to defend modern youth and the "jazz age," and scoffed at the notion that conditions among people are worse than when he was a boy.

"If anything, they are better," he said. "Youth is more sophisticated. Young people know more of evil and for that very reason are better equipped to face the problems of life."

"I am thoroughly in favor of short skirts. I hope never again to see the return of the day when women's skirts dragged on the ground and collected all the dust and dirt of the streets. And if a woman wants to bob her hair she should do so, it is cleaner and more beautiful."

American Rubber Project Work Starts In Liberia

Akron, O.—(AP)—Clearing away of the Liberian jungle preparatory to the planting of 1,000,000 acres of rich African soil with 1,000,000 rubber trees has begun by forces marshalled from the ends of the earth by Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone and Rubber company.

By Jan. 1, 240 representatives of the Akron company will be in Liberia, pushing forward the project which Mr. Firestone said will be supplying between 25 and 33 per cent of the world's crude rubber within the next decade.

The leasing transactions already completed with the Liberian government. The construction of wharfage facilities begun at Monrovia, the Liberian capital, and the planting of the first 50,000 acres is under way.

This first planting will be completed within the next six months and a quota of at least the same size will be completed in the six months following.

The Liberian acquisition and development by the American company is certain to bring down rubber prices which have bounded upwards in the last several months. In Mr. Firestone's opinion:

"Planters the world over have had the feeling that America has only been bluffing in its rubber projects. Mr. Firestone said. 'It has appeared to them that the United States manufacturers have not been willing to invest money with a return no nearer than five or six years. They believe they have noted an American desire to cash in on investments at once and that therefore the Americans are not inclined to make any thorough developments. This attitude is rapidly changing now as our work goes forward in Liberia.'

Following the entry of the Firestone forces into the little African republic, the company's head announced that 35,000 acres had been acquired in Tobacco on the isthmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico and that rubber already was being extracted from trees planted there by other interests several years ago.

In addition to these enterprises, Mr. Firestone capped his world-wide rubber quest with the announcement that he was seriously considering entering the Amazon basin in South America where millions of acres of rubber lands are undeveloped.

Three concessions have been obtained by the Firestone company from the Liberian government. The first was the lease of 2,000 acres of land, previously held and partly developed by British planters. Twelve hundred acres of this land, now planted in rubber trees, is producing rubber and is to be a nursery and experiment basis for the larger American project.

The second lease, which is the million-acre acquisition, gives the American company not only the right to plant and produce rubber on that acreage, but gives it all other rights, such as mineral, sub-salt and timber rights. The timber rights are given the company, tax-free.

A third grant by the Liberian government gives the company the right to construct its own lines of communication within and without the plantation for its private use, without taxation.

Levinsky was arraigned in municipal court following an inquest which fixed the responsibility for the death of two pedestrians on him Tuesday.

Bond was fixed at $10,000 which has not yet been furnished.

VIENNA AGAIN AFFECTS NIGHT LIFE IN ROME

Rome.—(AP)—The influence of Vienna before the World war a rival of Paris, as the capital of European gaiety, again is making itself felt in the night life of Rome.

Vaudeville "turns" and cabaret performers from France and England gradually are giving away to Austrians. As a result, the soft Viennese German is heard more frequently than French in places where Romans go to amuse themselves.

KIP DEFENSE GETS ANOTHER ROUGH JOLT

Chauffeur Says Rhinelander
Warned His Sweetheart
Was Colored

White Plains, N. Y.—(AP)—Mrs. Leonard Kip Rhinelander is expected to testify Monday, when trial of her husband's suit for annulment of his marriage to a quadroon servant girl is resumed.

Meanwhile presumably, the stammering millionaire's attorneys will give careful attention to testimony by a surprise witness Wednesday that Rhinelander had been informed before his marriage that the girl was a Negro. Ross Christie, formerly chauffeur of the plaintiff's father, testified that he drove the couple to a hotel in New York in 1911 before their marriage.

Once in Stamford, Conn., he said, Rhinelander showed him a watch he expected to give to Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a taxi driver, for Christmas.

"I said, 'don't you know her father is a colored man?' Christie testified. 'He said 'I don't give a damn if he is.'"

On cross-examination, Christie acknowledged that he had previously offered his services as a witness to the plaintiff. He said he left the Rhinelander service voluntarily and had no ill feeling against the family.

COOLIDGES HOME ON THANKSGIVING

Father of President and Young
John Are Absent from Festive Board

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Thanksgiving day was largely a quiet home-keeping day for President Coolidge and members of his cabinet, with all government activities in suspension for the holiday.

Attendance at morning services at the First Congregational church and the traditional turkey dinner at the White House were the only fixtures on the day's program for the president and Mrs. Coolidge. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston were the only White House guests for the occasion. His illness at Plymouth, Vt., prevented the president's father from being here and John Coolidge the executive's son is remaining at Amherst college until Christmas.

Among the special church services arranged throughout the capital was the annual Pan American mass at St. Patrick church.

FIRE CAUSES $10,000 DAMAGE AT DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia.—(AP)—A fire which broke out in the basement of the S. R. Kresge five and ten cent store at two o'clock Thursday morning did a possible damage of $10,000. The greater part of the damage was caused by smoke and water. The fire was under control quickly.

Shortage Of Peppermint Oil Sets Price Soaring

South Bend, Ind.—(AP)—A pound of peppermint oil now is worth its weight in silver.

An acute shortage, resulting from unseasonable frost and heat in May in southern Michigan and northwest Indiana, where 60 per cent of the world's supply of peppermint is produced, reduced the crop 70 per cent or to approximately 250,000 pounds.

Throughout the late summer and early fall peppermint oil has steadily increased in price until it exceeded $17 a pound. The maximum price last year was $4 and four years ago it was $1.25.

Gradually the growers are drifting toward a single "pool" through which they would market their oil when the demand price is highest. In several instances, farmers have been known to store their oil in safety deposit boxes to await further market advances.

Manufacturers of tooth paste, candies, chewing gum, various toothache remedies and all other products which require peppermint flavoring are in the greatest of the cooperative efforts of the growers. The normal yearly consumption of the oil is 400,000 pounds.

Peppermint plants, the oil of which is distilled from the leaves and stalks thrives best in heavy, mucky soil, found in the lowlands along the Indiana-Michigan border. The farms usually are small—fifty or sixty acres may be harvested each summer.

Peppermint first was introduced into Indiana and Michigan about 1840 from Ohio. A quarter of a century before it had been imported from England.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK WILL OF RECLUSE

Finishing Testimony on $200,000 Estate Left to Jacksonville, Fla., Man

MANY CLAIM PORTION

Milwaukee Woman Tells of Eccentricities of Wealthy Lawrence Graduate

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—Attorney

hoped Thursday to complete the taking of testimony in the hearing of a petition by Wisconsin relatives of Archibald McArthur who are trying to break the will of the former Dodgeville recluse who named George E. Hafferty of Jacksonville as chief beneficiary and executor of his will. The estate is estimated at $200,000.

The hearing Wednesday occupied by the testimony of Mrs. Josephine Fox, Milwaukee, and Luther McArthur of McArthur, Calif.

The nephew, Luther, said he was contentedly treated at the home of Hafferty and took him with him the two days he was in the city. Hafferty delivered a letter from Hugh McArthur to him without reluctance or hesitation, the witness said.

WAS CARELESS
Mrs. Fox was on the stand almost all day and was questioned at length by attorneys for both sides as to her habits, life and eccentricities of Mr. Archibald.

The gist of her testimony was to deny that he was repugnant in his habits although admitting a carelessness in dress in the latter years of his life. She stated that he appeared "foolish" in not being able to remember scriptural and poetical passages and his last visit to her home in 1924 passages that he had formerly been able to quote at ease.

GAVE INVITATION
McArthur told of coming from California as an ambassador from his uncle Hugh McArthur, a brother of Archibald, and two aunts to present an invitation to the aged man to live with them. The letter from Hugh to his brother, preserved by Hafferty after McArthur's death, was introduced as evidence in an attempt to counteract the statement in the will in reference to the disinherited relatives that "there is no reason why they should have any of mine as they have plenty and took no care of me during my life," attorneys said.

Luther McArthur's testimony was short. He confirmed the list of relatives mentioned in the petition to revoke the will and added to the list the names of Dr. A. McArthur, of Rhinelander, Wis., Mary Norton, Waupaca, Wis., Lottie Rich, Garfield, Wash., and Mrs. Isabelle DeGuer, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., children of Neal McArthur, a brother of Archibald.

MORE FARMS THAN IN 1920 BUT THEY ARE WORTH LESS

Census Reveals Decrease in Farm Land Values of $8
an Acre in Five Years

There are 3,529 farms in Outagamie-co the average valuation of which is $3,698, according to farm census figures for Jan. 1, 1925, which were recently released by the department of commerce at Washington, D. C. The average size of the farms is 96 acres. Their total valuation, including both land and buildings, is $13,136,600, a decrease of $2,893,517 from the estimated valuation for Jan. 1, 1920.

The number of farms in the county has increased in the last five years although the average size of each has diminished. On Jan. 1, 1920, there were 3,746 farms, 83 less than there are today, and the average size was 92 acres.

VALUES FALL OFF

The total farm acreage in the county at the present time is 348,669, as compared with 317,824 at the same period in 1920. The valuation of all farm land in 1920 was $39,940,147. The average valuation of the land now is $197 per acre. In 1920 it was $117.

Exactly 3,508 of the farms are operated by their owners. Seven are operated by managers, while the remainder, 214, are operated by tenants. The value of all farm land alone is $22,750,615 and the value of all the buildings is $14,385,985. The corresponding figures in 1920 were $27,638,010 and $12,352,137.

Livestock on Outagamie-co farms, including horses, mules, cattle, and swine, number 129,168. In 1920 the number was 135,750.

At the present time there are 6,007 cattle, 11,064 horses, 58 mules and 23,287 swine. The figures for livestock in 1920 were: 5,677 cattle, 12,576 horses, 75 mules, and 15,719 swine.

A comparison of these figures proves interesting. The report shows a decrease of more than 1,000 horses in the county in the last five years. There is a noticeable increase in the number of cattle. The increase of course, is chiefly in dairy cattle. Swine have decreased by more than 11,000.

As in 1920, the principal crop in the county still is oats. There were 1,642,523 bushels of oats harvested from 49,461 acres of land in 1925, while the 16,116 acres planted to this crop in 1920 yielded 1,396,370 bushels.

The most surprising decrease in any crop is that of corn. Last year only 3,356 acres, which yielded 102,663 bushels, were planted to corn while in 1920 farmers harvested 1,950,129 bushels off of 21,177 acres.

Other principal crops in the county in 1925, including the yield and average, were as follows:

Barley—6,672 acres, 179,557 bushels; hay—66,521 acres, 85,523 tons; white potatoes—3,758 acres, 37,668 bushels; sugar beets—1,649 acres, 9,999 tons. The figures for 1920 were:

Barley—9,600 acres, 228,586 bushels; hay—61,287 acres, 80,213 tons; white potatoes—4,135 acres, 41,132 bushels; sugar beets—436 acres, 2,565 tons.

The barley and potato crop has decreased appreciably while the hay and sugar beet crops have increased.

The crop land in the county in 1925 was estimated at 188,716 acres, of which 182,621 acres were harvested. 1,597 acres contained crop failures while 1,697 acres were either fallow or idle.

Pasture land in the same year was fixed at 196,417 acres. Of this total, 42,884 acres were plowable, 21,236 were woodland and 3,225 were classified in other ways. Woodland not pasture totaled 12,267 acres, and all other land not designated amounted to 28,625 acres.

DEFECTIVE HEATING PLANTS CAUSE FIRES

With winter already upon us and with stoves, furnaces and boilers started, extreme caution is required if serious fires are to be prevented, the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin has warned. Wisconsin's fire loss for 1924, as reported to the state fire marshal, was $10,431,550, of which $2,400,701 was due heating plant defects and mismanagement.

Defective chimneys, unclean chimneys burning out, sparks from chimneys on shingle roofs, defective stoves, furnaces, boilers, and fire places, stoves, furnaces and smoke pipes too near unprotected woodwork, clothing hung too near stoves and smoke pipes and ash cans placed near wooden receptacles or against combustible walls, are all causes of fires.

The remedies for fire losses are not technical, nor are the remedies necessary to protect them. Fire causes can easily be discovered and corrected and many lives and much property will be saved thereby. News paper items such as "home in ashes," "overcome by smoke," "burned while they slept," "escaped in their night clothes," or "escape cut off," all point to some careless persons, the warning says.

WE ARE THANKFUL
Why not make Thanksgiving, this year, especially meaningful by reminding ourselves of some of the overlooked causes for thankfulness? Let us give thanks:
For the progress that has been made in curbing the ravages of cancer, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, influenza and scores of other plagues and maladies which have afflicted the race;
For such geniuses as Steinmetz and Edison who have harnessed the forces of nature to the burdens of humanity and lifted loads from tired shoulders and placed them on the wings of the wind;
For such wizards as Luther Burbank who have made two potatoes grow where one grew before and taught the cactus to shed its spines and render useful service;
For statesmen who have dared to defy the jingoists and militarists in a war against war;
For the colleges and universities of America that are crowded to more than their capacity with an eager generation of youth seeking training and truth;
For the spirit of tolerance that is abroad in the land which invites representatives of all religious creeds and faiths to sit upon the same committees and labor together for the establishment of righteousness and goodness throughout the land;
For the apostles of beauty who bring us, in pigment and poetry, in marble and music, inspiring visions of divinity;
For the microscope that reveals the universes under our feet and for the telescope that brings the universes over our head within our range of vision;
For the X-ray that searches out the origin of disease for the radio that fills the whole world with beautiful song which any man can have if he will but reach out and take it, for the spectroscopic that teaches us the nature of the far flung planets, for the electro-magnet that laughs at loads;
For the unconquerable souls who have persevered in spite of "dungeon, fire and sword," that we might enjoy civil and religious liberty.
For such as Helen Keller, Ludwig van Beethoven, John Milton, Robert Louis Stevenson, Francis Parkman, Dostoyevsky, Elizabeth Barrett Browning and the "millions of humble and nameless," who have conquered in spite of fate and taught us that we, too, might conquer;
For honest teachers, sincere preachers, fearless leaders, unselfish social engineers, sportsmanlike players, far-visioned poets and loyal laborers;
For all the servants of humanity whose names never appear in the papers, whose praises are still unsung and whose tasks are never done.
WE ARE THANKFUL.
COOPERATION IN NEAR EAST
Reports from London are to the effect that an agreement for cooperation in the Near east has been reached between France and England. If this is true, it is a step of far-reaching importance to the affairs and peace of Europe. We think a common policy in the Balkans, and in those mandated portions of western Asia, between these actual and potential rivals is desirable. It might be argued that the purpose is merely to help each other in exploitation programs, but the answer to this is that the League of Nations will in due time put an end to any improper collusion that may arise.
So far as the minorities and the mandated countries of the Near east are concerned, together with the small and weak independent nations, an understanding between France and England will be for their protection. If French and British interests can be reconciled, it will serve the further purpose of uniting them against Turkey, a development not without value. Finally, it should serve to promote Balkan unity, possibly to the extent of common action if necessary to resist Turkey.

We have heard considerable sobbing by our sentimentalists and Anglophobes in behalf of Turkey in the dispute over the Mosul oil fields. Behind most of this mock sentiment is prejudice against England, or against the League of Nations which is attempting to solve the trouble by passing on the claims of Iraq to the disputed territory. Iraq, be it said, provided Great Britain The best information we can obtain on the controversy is that the claims of Iraq are quite as valid as those of Turkey, that it is impractical to take a referendum in Mosul and that the recommendation of the League committee that practically the whole of Mosul be placed under the jurisdiction of Iraq provided Great Britain will agree to binding herself to a mandate over the entire territory for twenty-five years is a satisfactory solution. It does not appear as yet that Great Britain is willing to undertake this responsibility and it is well known that there is popular opposition in England to a continuance of the Iraq charge.
Laying aside ethical, economic and political factors involved, which are highly complicated and often opposing, we think it will be generally agreed that international interests will be better promoted by development of Mosul oil fields by Great Britain than by putting them under the control of a nation like Turkey. We seem to forget too quickly the centuries of trouble Turkey has caused the world, its persecution of other races and nations on the religious issue, and its intractableness and irresponsibility. Turkey was the enemy of the civilized world in the great war, and yet it seems to have profited more from it than some of the allies themselves. It is Turkey that needs to be held in check far more than Great Britain and France. We should, therefore, view with favor an understanding between France and England in Near east policies, for, as we have said, the Near east will ultimately be under the influence and control of the League of Nations, and there is every evidence that the League has established itself permanently and is going to be a potent force for peace and right relationships in Europe.

PEACE
We thrive on the fact that our countries at peace and we boast that our friendship is real. Our harmony remained as ever increased, and the right sort of spirit we feel.
The worry of war isn't ours any more, and a much lighter feeling is plain. What more can we ask, than to turn to our task in the quiet that's riding today?
And yet, there's an angel that has a big part in the making of peace that is strong. Real harmony's played on the strings of your heart, and it helps peace to travel along.
It pays us to give of our best, and let love, for no matter wherever you roam, you always will find that the very best kind of peace has its start in the home.
(Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)
A fidgety man can wait at the street corner for his wife a hundred years in five minutes.
Heaven must be a place where you can wear a suit of clothes as long as the rest last.
We seldom speak of short dresses, but they do seem now high and stocking in these days.
Every man and every boy's eyes while kissing, and some have sense enough to keep their mouths shut afterward.
Following the line of least resistance gets many a man's arm around a waitress.
No matter how much love is made there always seems to be a shortage.
Many a girl who drinks has a couple of parents who won't even believe she smokes.
What you start all depends upon what starts you.
A boy who doesn't want to eat things that make him sick is sick.
Judge an auto by its hood and you will be hoodwinked.
It is easier to collect a crowd than to collect from a crowd.
Arguing with a policeman is about as useless as turning on an electric light in the day time.
The nice thing about being hard-headed is the world finds it much harder to knock you silly.
Being conceited is usually about all a conceited person has to be conceited about.
What you believe in isn't so important as who you believe in.
Stifle your good or bad feelings long enough and they will escape so distorted you won't know them yourself.

EXCEPT BORIC ACID
In our Little Journeys in the Aseptic Era, it just now occurs to me, I neglected to caution you, children, to save the boric acid when dumping your stock of "antiseptic" nostrums in the sink. Boric acid I can antiseptic, though not a nostrum. No fanciful or unreasonable claims are made for it. No appreciable share of your good money is appropriated by the boric acid merchants for keeping you well misinformed about the remedial value of boric acid in your domestic establishment. No element of mystery surrounds the use of boric acid. Boric acid hasn't a very impressive odor. It looks like so much sugar or salt. Nobody issues free almanacs or publishes amazing testimonials about cures wrought with boric acid. Seldom indeed does the ambulance make a hurried call or the corner sit on the remains when boric acid is accidentally put to wrong use. These are the good reasons why boric acid is cheap. I promised you that I would save you some money in the Aseptic Era. May be you don't want to save money. A child never thanks his elders for telling him there is no Santa Claus.
Aside from tincture of iodine as a first aid disinfectant for minor wounds, boric acid is the only antiseptic a well arranged family medicine cupboard should contain. It will meet every requirement of an antiseptic quite as well as any other agent, in my opinion. Eye drops, ear drops, nasal spray, mouth wash, gargle, solution for antisepticizing a wet dressing, antiseptic solution for bathing an infected wound, douche, bladder wash, bowel wash, or as a dusting powder for the relief of foul sweating, boric acid is an excellent first choice.
Canker sores in the mouth, sores of which a correspondent described as "hell," are best dealt with after this fashion: Give the toothbrush and your favorite dentifrice a well earned rest. Touch each canker sore daily with a mixture of equal parts of tincture of iodine and glycerin—which smartens momentarily, then seems to relieve. Then gently rinse the mouth many times a day, especially before and after taking food, with warm saturated boric acid solution. Saturated solution of anything means simply all the water will dissolve.
I take canker sores merely as an example of the use of boric acid as an antiseptic—yet this is the aseptic era. Have I not said repeatedly that no known antiseptic is worth a hoot as a germ-chaser or even a germ discourager after the germ has penetrated the tissues, that is, after infection has taken place? I have, and I stand by that assertion. But here in the mouth afflicted with canker sores the boric acid serves another purpose, namely the discouragement of germs which are given off from the canker sores, and which, if not discouraged, may set up other canker sores. The warm saturated solution does this without irritating or injuring the mucous membrane of the mouth and without interfering with the natural healing processes. At least, I believe it does.
Boric acid solution may be used for moistening a dressing on an infected wound or sore of any kind, the antiseptic in this instance again serving the purpose of rendering the germs given off from the infected wound or sore harmless. Some such protective dressing over Bell Number. One would wonder, No. 2, but a less inevitable eventually, if people only knew about the aseptic era and the way not to handle bells.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Born Nervous
Which of these two doctors would you recommend for an operation—Dr. — or Dr. —? Is there such a thing as being born nervous and no help for it, as one doctor told me? Would displacement of the womb cause such trouble? (M. M.)
Answer:—Either of the doctors you name would be competent to operate. Some deficiencies are born so. I do not think displacement would cause any general trouble. Knowledge of a displacement, unless you are also aware that many women with displacement suffer no ill effect, might give you considerable worry.
Great Expectations
Please inform me where I may obtain the following books: Pre-Natal Care and How to Feed an Infant. (D. T.)
Answer:—I do not know of books with those titles. A recent book by Dr. Frank H. Richardson covers the ground in the simplest and most practical way. It is called "Simplifying Motherhood" and is published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York and is available in this city for only $1.75.
Sarcoma
Is there any cure for sarcoma? My cousin has this disease and the family doctor gave up the case because it is incurable. (Mrs. E. R. M.)
Answer:—Sarcoma is the most malignant type of cancer. Unlike the more usual type, carcinoma, it occurs often in early life and it spreads through the circulation rather than through the lymphatics as the ordinary cancer does. If diagnosed before a secondary tumor has been started in a distant part of the body by this embolism process, the radical surgical removal of the sarcoma may save life. Otherwise no cure is known.
Ben Told in the Quack Business
I have been told by two rub doctors that Dr. Brady is dead and the articles put out under his name are just advertising for the medical trust. (R. C. J.)
Answer:—No doubt a good many "rub doctors" wish I were dead, but I am afraid I am going to continue, so far as you are concerned, I am dead and buried, and you may continue being deceived by the "rub doctors" or the "medical trust" as you prefer.
Kerosene for Dandruff
I have been using kerosene on my hair, it seems to remove the dandruff and stop the itching of the scalp. Is it harmful in any way? (R. G.)
Answer:—For occasional use it is harmless. Be careful about fire. This is not my recommendation, however.
Chapped Lips
As soon as cool weather arrives my lips begin to become chapped and irritated. Can you suggest anything to prevent this annoyance? (E. A. E.)
Answer:—Brush the lips at night and morning with a bit of this lotion on the fingertips: Equal parts of glycerin and tincture of benzoin.

THANKSGIVING
Here's to the virtues of pumpkin and mince.

Puzzling a palate that thought it was Owl.

Nevertheless, it's a season of joy

And above in the thought of the parents who told

Appleton high school football team left today for Marinette to help this city celebrate Thanksgiving day. We hope it might, about turned around—Marinette helping Appleton celebrate Thanksgiving.
The traditional exhortation of the presidents of the United States for the people to assemble in their respective churches on Thanksgiving day probably will be changed some day to make the location the gridiron. Few people go to church on Thanksgiving day, for this day is going the way of Independence day, Memorial day, Labor day and other holidays that seem to have lost their significance to the American public.
Mr. Roy Chapman Andrews, the scientist whom Beloit college sent on an exploring expedition in Asia, came back this fall with some eggs thousands of years old. It seems that the grocers have enough competition already without the scientists making it harder for them.
FOOTBALL BLUES
Darling, I am growing old.
Simply cannot bear this cold.
Football's also lost its grip.
I ketch cold and lose my zip.
But, my darling, when you sa-a-a-ay.

Then I grin and shout "Er-er-KER-CHEW!"

BEATING HOOF'S ARE REPLACED BY AIRPLANE MAIL
Eight More Routes Are Added to System Which Once Was Only an Experiment
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington, D. C.—It is night on the plains. A whispering breeze rustles the sage. The stars blink down on the expanse beneath them. Somewhere in the murk that joins heaven and earth a coyote howls and the void. Then silence. Again the whispering breeze, which grows into a wind, swishing through the sage. It hears with it the sound of hoofs, a rapid staccato. From the direction of the sound sharp streaks of flame stab the murky night. They are followed, seconds later, by the tardy reports of guns, vainly chasing the light that preceded them.
The staccato comes nearer. The noise of creaking leather mingles with the sound of galloping hoofs. A rider, silhouetted against the heavens, flies past, the fringe on his arms and legs streaming with the wind, the broad brim of his hat blown flat against his forehead. Behind him rides a wild band. Their feathered heads and naked bodies are bent low over their mounts, as if they were part of them. The staccato grows fainter, the streaks of flame disappear into the night the reports die on the loneliness. Perhaps the band rides back with a grisly trophy hanging on the leader's belt; perhaps it rides back discomfited; perhaps it rides back pursued by many riders like the one that had gone before, or perhaps it does not ride back at all. The rider was the mail carrier of 60 years ago; this was the pony express.
THE TIMES CHANGE
It is night once more on the plains, but at regular intervals lights break through the murk. There is a string of them, stretching thousands of miles, not only on the plains, but across hills, mountains, and rivers. Every 250 miles they revolve like the beacons of lighthouses. The breeze now bears with it a staccato, more rapid and louder than the hoofs of many years ago. The staccato changes to a roar. Now silhouetted against the heavens is a gigantic bird. Sharp streaks of flame stab from it, but they are not the shots of guns. The rider dies in the night, but the lights continue to revolve. The gigantic bird is the new mail carrier. This is the air mail.
The air mail was established in 1914. It began with a route between Washington and New York. It grew and later on independent and disconnected routes between such points as Cleveland and Chicago, New York and Cleveland, Chicago and Omaha, and Chicago and St. Louis, were established. These routes were not long enough to offer any marked advantage over the train in the transportation of mail. The air mail between Washington and New York, for instance, took two hours. For instance, train then the difficulty encountered in taking off and landing and the time required to truck the mail from the landing fields to post offices made a serious delay. When everything was over the advantage left to the air mail was only one hour. But experience was gained from these short routes which was to prove invaluable.
LIGHTHOUSES ESTABLISHED
The next question to be considered was how to continue the flight of the mail by night. It was found that

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

The Question Box
Ask Frederic J. Haskin, Director of the Post-Crescent Information Bureau, whatever you want to know—health, business, etiquette, a household problem or a national one—Haskin can find out about it. He has the greatest library in the world to draw on, and he can reach the many scientific experts in the employ of the Government. He will go to the right source and quote you the authority. He is employed by the Appleton Post-Crescent to act as a free agent for the people. This is a service you can not afford to overlook. Write your question and your name and address plainly. Enclose a two cent stamp for return postage. Send it to The Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.
Q. Where is the longest telephone cable that has been made? D. W. G.
A. The longest one installed is the cable between New York and Chicago. It is 861 miles long, and will carry 250 telephone conversations and 500 telegraph messages simultaneously.
Q. Should dead leaves be burned? F. E. M.
A. They should be kept for their humus.
Q. Do perspiring feet injure the shoe? L. A.
A. A well known shoe firm says that perspiration causes 75 per cent of the damage to all footwear. The acid in perspiration destroys leather as quickly as skunk head would.
Q. What is King George's full name? E. M.
A. It is George Frederick Ernest Albert Windsor.
Q. What kind of fruit is a shaddock? J. M. W.
A. This is another name for a grape fruit. The pomelo, shaddock, or grape fruit (Citrus decumana) is a native of southern China. This fruit is more sour than an orange. It is sour than a lemon. The pomelo is from the Dutch name Pomme de Shaddock was the name of a Captain who brought the fruit to the West Indies. By some authorities a distinction is made between shaddock and grape fruit, shaddock being the larger, the grape fruit the smaller having a finer flavor. They are grown plentifully in Jamaica, Cuba, California and most oriental countries.
Q. What is the percentage of illiteracy in American Samoa? M. N.
A. Illiteracy does not exist in American Samoa. The official Government languages of America are English and Samoan. Every adult Samoan can read and write in one of those languages. The public schools in American Samoa are conducted in English and are rapidly adding to the number of English-speaking children and adults in Samoa.
Q. Where was the Bible opened when President Coolidge was inaugurated? M. V. E.
A. Upon the occasion the Bible was opened without regard for book, chapter or verse, and, apparently, no account as taken of the exact place.
Q. How long has sugar corn been grown? E. O.
A. The Indians at the time American was first settled were found cultivating dent, flint, sugar corn, and popcorn.
Q. When and where did Christy Mathewson die? N. N.
A. Christy Mathewson died at Saratoga, New York, October 7, 1925 at eleven A. M., of tubercular pneumonia.
Q. Are predatory animals decreasing in number? P. M.
A. Considerable progress has been made during the past four years in the control of predatory animals. During this period 2542 wolves, 625 mountain lions, 11,625 bobcats and lynxes, 437 bears, and about 350,000 coyotes have been destroyed in these campaigns. This represents a direct gross saving to stock growers of not less than $23,000,000, at a cost of $1,101,820 to the Department of Agriculture and $1,040,276 to cooperators.
Q. Is the use of the Panama Canal increasing or decreasing? C. M.
A. The report for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1925, showed a decrease in the total traffic through the Canal. The number of vessels making the passage during 1925, exclusive of Government and other toll exempt ships, was 4672, as compared with 5230 in 1924. The decline in business is believed to be due to the decrease in oil shipments from California.

DUCK, GOOSE, AND CHICKEN FOR PRISONERS

What can a prisoner be thankful for in Thanksgiving day? Most people would say there was nothing for which a prisoner could be thankful either on Thanksgiving day or at any other time. But the headers at the Outagamie county jail have one thing they are mighty grateful for today, and that is a Thanksgiving dinner which ranks second to none in town. There are ten headers at the jail at the present time, and Sheriff and Mrs. T. G. Schwartz have prepared a "feast" for them which they will remember. There will be duck, chicken, goose, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, pumpkin pies, and other delicacies on the menu which will go a long way toward making the holiday a festive affair for the prisoners.

MOTOR POLICY IN WINNEBAGO-CO IS IN FOR "RAZZING"

Motorists Assert "Speed Trap" Methods in Neighboring County Are Unfair

The policy employed by Winnebago last summer of literally arresting speeders by the dozen is meeting with much adverse criticism throughout the state. Even the press has taken up discussion of the matter. The Milwaukee Journal of Nov. 25 carried the following article by Brownie, well known automobile editor:

"Winnebago's motorcycle policemen made 506 traffic arrests during the 1925 season. These arrests resulted in a revenue of $8,229.98 in fines and also resulted in about 8,229.98 kicks from motorists on the methods of the three speed cops employed by Winnebago."

"At the November meeting of the county board one of the members upon being informed of the large amount collected in fines advocated the appointment of more officers because they were a paying proposition. Of course, he was joking, but if he wanted to make a serious suggestion he might have asked that the three officers they now have be given plenty of air on the ground that their methods were harmful to the county."

"The latest complaint made to the four club regarding Winnebago's officers comes from Fred Falkner of the Fox Cutler Co., 215 Sycamore-st. He states that on Nov. 5 a salesman of the firm was driving on the highway between Fond du Lac and Oshkosh. Ahead of him was a coupe and behind his car were two others. All four cars were doing about 40 miles an hour."

"Suddenly the coupe came to a stop, a deputy sheriff jumped out and halted the three cars. At the same moment a motorcycle officer charged up from the rear. The three motorists were charged with speeding. They were guilty, of course, and paid their fines of $14.63 right on the spot."

"This procedure is legal, of course, but it is very unfair and should not be tolerated. Excessive speed is prohibited because it is considered dangerous. But surely a deputy sheriff going 40 miles an hour constitutes just as much of a hazard as a salesman traveling at the same gait."

"Winnebago may collect plenty

WINNINGER BROTHERS ALL IN SHOW BUSINESS

Where are the Winner boys? is an oft repeated question heard on all sides since the return of the Frank Winner Comedy Co. to Appleton. They were well known around this city as youths, having been reared at Waupaca, where their mother still resides.

John Winner, as well as Frank, is heading a show company of his own. Joe, who was formerly manager of the Appleton theater, is now managing the Palace Theater at Waupaca, while Charles and his wife are on Broadway with the original "No No Nanette" Co., where he is creating a sensation. Adolph is appearing this year with his brother, Frank, in the company which is now showing in this city.

COUNTY PLANS TO KEEP TEN MILES OF HIGHWAY OPEN

Road Between Asylum and Sanatorium Will Be Cleared of Snow During Winter

Ten miles of highway between the west city limits of Kaukauna on state trunk highway 15 to the county asylum on highway 13 will be kept open by the county highway department during the winter, according to a statement made Wednesday by A. G. Hauswirth, county highway commissioner. This stretch of highway will be kept free of snow so that the two principal county institutions, the asylum, and Riverview sanatorium may be reached quickly from either Appleton or Kaukauna.

The county highway committee is considering the purchase of a Holt tractor to be used with a snow plow to keep the snow off the highway. This was the method used to keep the road clear two years ago, and proved quite successful. Last year because there was very little snow, a tractor was not necessary, and the county motor trucks were sufficient to pull the snow plows.

SAVE $50,000 YEARLY TOWARD NEW HIGH SCHOOL

City and Board of Education Evolve Plan to Overcome Conditions

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The city fathers have at last begun action toward erection of a new high school.

The common council, the board of education and Mayor Wendlandt have adopted a plan whereby a sinking fund for the new building is to be started this year, with an appropriation of $50,000 provided in the 1926 budget. The same amount or more is to be provided annually until the fund is sufficient to warrant the erection of the early needed school building. They figure that at this rate they should be able to erect the school in either 1928 or 1929.

This is probably the outcome of a campaign which aroused considerable sentiment. It was begun by the New London Press last week, when that paper appeared with a scathing editorial concerning the condition of New London's high school. The information revealing the plan for the sinking fund was announced by the mayor himself, when he came out with a long statement denouncing the newspaper for its editorial, which he called "pointed and rabid."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients. It is known as Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur Compound and can be obtained at all drug stores for only 75 cents a bottle.

While gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractions. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

MILITARY ROAD SHAPED HISTORY OF CALUMET-CO

Mention of Present Highway 55 Recalls Many Early Day Facts

Special to Post-Crescent
Chilton—Practically the entire history of Calumet-co is bound up with what is known as the old military road, now part of state trunk highway No. 55. Whenever this historic highway is spoken of, settlers bring to mind what a factor it was in bringing many to this locality to reside. The road not only was serving its military purpose as an avenue of communication between forts but attracted many immigrants who yielded to ease rather than following the wooded trails.

Though Wisconsin is only 77 years old as a state, its history dates back 250 years to the settlement at Green Bay in 1645. Joliet and Marquette made their way across Wisconsin by the Fox and Wisconsin rivers about the year 1680. This route remained the only one between Lake Michigan and the southwestern part for about 150 years, or until the end of the first quarter of the nineteenth century. Previous to 1829 mail had been carried over the same route by a half-breed who delivered the first mail in Dodgeville in 1828. During the Black Hawk war dispatches for Gen. Zachary Taylor were carried over this route between Prairie du Chien and Green Bay. Citizens in Green Bay at a public meeting in October, 1829, petitioned congress for a road to Chicago, which was then a village surrounding Fort Dearborn, built in 1803.

After the establishment of Fort Howard at Green Bay and Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien there was demand for a road to connect these forts, since supplies could not be transported by water during the winter.

VOTED TO BUILD ROAD
Congress answered the Green Bay petition, by an appropriation for two military roads, one from Green Bay to Chicago, the other from Green Bay to Prairie du Chien, and known as the old military road. This road extended from Green Bay along the west side of the Fox river to a point about a mile above Wrightstown; from there across the southeastern part of Outagamie-co to Sherwood along the east shore of Lake Winnebago, through Stockbridge and Brotherton to Fond du Lac. From the latter place it went through Lamartine and Grandon across the southeastern part of Green Lake-co to Port Winnebago, where Portage now stands. From Portage the road took an almost direct southerly direction through Peshtigo to the northern shore of Lake Menasha. The remainder of the road had a generally westward direction through Blue Mounds along a line which followed the middle of Iowa-co and the northern part of Grant-co, crossing the Wisconsin river at Bridgeport, thus entering Prairie du Chien from the southeast.

The old military road is of particular interest to the people of Calumet-co and of Chilton; to the people of Calumet-co because the road as laid out traverses the entire county from north to south, and along this highway came most of the earlier settlers of the county. Citizens of Chilton are interested in the old military road because its founder came over that route and also because one of its substantial citizens of the present day is the grandson of Lieut. Alexander J. Center of the United States army, who with Judge Doty surveyed and located this road in the years 1831 and 1832. Lieut. Center was a graduate of West Point, and after his services in Wisconsin he supervised the widening of the Erie canal in the state of New York. Later he was prominently identified with the survey and construction of the Panama railroad from Panama to Colon.

There were very few settlers along the route when it was laid out by Judge Doty and Lieut. Center. There was a log cabin at what is now Montfort in Grant-co; one at Blue Mounds and one on the north shore of Lake Menasha and the lower Fox river.

SOLDIERS DID WORK
In 1832 Louis Cass, then secretary of war, issued an order directing the construction of the road between the forts. The soldiers at Fort Crawford built the road to Fort Winnebago. Portage; the soldiers at the latter fort built the stretch to Fond du Lac, and the soldiers at Green Bay finished the construction between Green Bay and Fond du Lac.

The road was made by cutting a track through the timber about two rods wide. The portions of the road that crossed prairies were marked by setting mile stakes. In swamps and low places corduroy roads were made by putting small logs on the earth and covering them with small boughs and dirt.

After the three military forts were abandoned and settlement resulted in opening roads on sectional lines the military road was lost, so to speak, and in many places was given back to a growth of timber. The portion between Green Bay and Fond du Lac has kept much of its original location.

Associated with this road are many names some of which are more pleasantly realized than less than 100 years ago. Of special interest to the people of Calumet-co, are the names of John Quinney, noted Stockbridge Indian; William Fowler, a Brother-town Indian and a member of the fourth territorial legislature; Moses Stanton, a half-breed Narragansett Indian, the founder of Chilton, originally called Stantonville, whose squaw was a descendant of King Philip.

As people pass over what was formerly a portion of this road in smooth running automobiles, they scarcely realize that less than 100 years have passed since the beautiful farming country through which they pass was an unbroken wilderness.

STAGE AND SCREEN

"DADDY DUMPLINS" PLEASING TO BIG CROWD

"Chips off the Old Block," if we may use such a term with no disrespect, is the way we would term Dawn and Frank Wimmer, Jr., after reviewing their work in "Daddy Dumplings," played by the Wimmer Comedy company at the Fischer Appleton Theater last night.

Sharing honors with their father, the two children, who are eight and seven years old respectively, showed remarkable ability in handling the lines, with personalities that immediately won the audience. Their stage appearance is natural and full of childish grace while they work with the sureness of those who have been in the work for some time.

Romance, comedy and bathos contributed to the theme of the play last night. Laughs of the kind that are made only by Frank Wimmer were dominant throughout the but while at times tears were brought to the eyes of the audience. The supporting cast was most adequate, in fact so evenly balanced that individual criticism would be unfair. The settings for the play were especially appropriate the first scene being extremely pretty, and smacking with Yuletide spirit and good cheer. The play proved to be one of the best of the present engagement so far.

"THE LIVE WIRE" EPIC OF CIRCUS

Remember your "bad days" when the circus was such a big event in your life that you would even make the sacrifice of washing your face for the privilege of seeing the big show?

The circus possesses an irresistible fascination to all Americans, and we doubt whether the kids enjoy it more than the grownups. The circus yields a lure that does not wane with the passing of the years.

Which explains in a measure, the great success achieved by "The Live Wire," a First National picture starring Johnny Hines, at the Elite Theater today and tomorrow. The star is sufficient to fill any theatre, for his popularity as a comedian is world-wide, but so many of the scenes are laid in a circus tent that there is added pleasure in seeing this whirlwind almost certain death.

In addition to the fun, there are spectacular thrills which make the spectator gasp, including one in which Hines slides down a sixty-five foot tight wire to the plaudits of the crowd. Milled Ryan is Hines' leading woman in the production, others in the cast including J. Barney Sherry, Ed.mund Brees, Bradley Barker and Flora Finch, C. C. Burr produced.

A BLOOD-STIRRING TALE OF THE MOUNTED POLICE

"Steele of the Royal Mounted," a blood-stirring melodrama, adapted from James Oliver Curwood's story, opened yesterday at the New Bijou for a run of 3 days. It is a picture that all lovers of clean, swift-action photoplays will enjoy.

The story of "Steele of the Royal Mounted" follows the trail of the line trooper on the track of the criminal through the perils of the wilderness. It is an old theme for picture-goers, but, as worked out in this production, it seems amazingly fresh and new. The spectators were held breathless in the big scene, where Steele is dashed helplessly down the roaring rapids to almost certain death.

Bert Lytell, in the role of Steele, dashes through this peril, and other with a fascinating recklessness that sets the blood tingling. Playing opposite him is the lovely Charlotte Merriam, who makes an adorable heroine. Stuart Holmes gives another of his memorable "villain" performances. Mabel Juhenne Scott, who has emerged from a long retirement makes her return an event to be welcomed by picture-goers, as a woman whose love affair causes a lot of trouble. And Sydney De Grey and John Touchey, as a pair of cowboys, complete the principals in an excellent cast.

Postponed Operetta
"Bells of Beaulieu," the operetta to be presented by the boys and girls' glee club, the band and orchestra of Appleton high school has been postponed from Dec. 4 to Dec. 5. The play is a musical comedy with a cast of 110 students and is to be given in the Lawrence chapel.

DEATH RATE IN COUNTY HIGHER THAN AVERAGE

658 Deaths in Outagamie-co in 1924, State Health Board
Reports

Outagamie-co's death rate for 1924 is slightly higher than the average death rate for Wisconsin for the same year, according to a report from the state board of health just received from Madison showing the number of deaths in each county of the state and the rate per thousand population. The rate for this county was 11.6 deaths per thousand population while the average for the state was 10.2 per thousand, making the Outagamie-co rate 1.4 deaths above the state average.

There were 28,205 deaths in the state in 1924 as compared with 29,336 for 1923, a decrease of 1,131, due primarily to the advance of medical science, according to the explanation advanced by the state board of health. In 1923 the state death rate was 10.7 and in 1922 it was 10.2 the same as for 1924.

"The decrease in the rate is largely accounted for by decrease in death from influenza, pneumonia, measles, diphtheria, diabetes, diarrhea, and enteritis," said the board of health. "The decline in diabetes, formerly a disease of continuous mounting fatality is credited to the use of insulin, a curative agent evolved from medical laboratories of medical research."

LOW IN CALUMET-CO.

The number of deaths reported in Outagamie-co for 1924 was 658. Brown-co had 775 deaths with a rate of 11.9 per thousand. This is 117 more deaths than were reported in Outagamie-co and a death rate which is 0.3 higher. Winnebago-co was high in the number of deaths reported, having a total of 888 and a rate of 13.7. These figures show 250 more deaths in Winnebago-co than in this county. Calumet-co had an exceptionally low death rate, the figure being 7.7. One-hundred and forty-two people died in that county during the last year. Waupesa-co reported 412 deaths and a rate of 11.9. Shawano-co was low with 304 deaths and a rate of 8.7, while Fond du Lac-co had 650 deaths and a rate of 11.2, very similar to the Outagamie-co report. Milwaukee-co had 5,416 deaths and a rate of 11.9 being above the state average, but below that of Outagamie-co.

A strange thing about the 1924 report is that the counties showing the highest and lowest death rates in the state are located very near to one another and have essentially the same climatic conditions. These are Vilas-co with 87 deaths and a high rate of 15.4, and Florence-co with but 29 deaths for the entire year and a rate of 6.0.

U. S. TRADE INDEX BOOK IS ON FILE AT C. OF C.

United States department of commerce has furnished Appleton Chamber of Commerce with a unique trade index, the first of its kind ever published. It is called a "classified list of commodities" marked in this country of specifications" covering every or exported. The aim is to indicate where publications, bulletins or other information may be obtained on any product so as to indicate the standards under which it may be marketed, and the requirements of the trade for such product. Later an encyclopedia of specifications will be issued, elaborating on the items in the index.

Concerns which desired to introduce a product heretofore had no way of learning what already was being done in the market and the new index will reveal where facts can be obtained. The index is a bound volume of quite a number of pages.

DEPUTIZE C. C. TO AID IN INDUSTRY CENSUS

Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been sworn in by the United States government as an assistant bureau for obtaining the 1926 industrial census for the department of commerce. Aid will be given in compiling the statistics of manufacture in Appleton and vicinity.

Blanks are to be sent to all concerns to be filled out and the chamber's chief duty will be to follow up those which are not sent in promptly. Similar assistance was given a year ago with good success.

George Schuricht has returned to Shiohogan after visiting friends in Appleton.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

"SEEING PARIS" IN A DAY TRIES YANKEE POWERS

Speeding Up French Traffic Too Much for American Tourists' Endurance

Paris —(AP)—Whatever view the visitor may hold on the deliberateness of French foot and vehicular traffic, the business of "Seeing Paris" has been speeded up that it has exceeded the physical powers of many of the American tourists, recognized in the profession as the most rugged of all.

To "see Paris right" formerly required eight days. It is now done in one day and an evening. Many of the French people believe leisure is not in the American vocabulary. Apparently they have figured the sight-seeing trade to the rapidly with which the Frenchman has observed the American devour his food and hasten about his business.

The average American doing Paris even by motor gives out at the Cathedral of Notre Dame near the middle of the afternoon, said a guide in one of the principal tourist agencies. The guide is asked by sturdy folk if "any one ever goes through to the end."

The whole program consumes about eight hours—the legal limit of the working day in Paris. One Chicagoan said the work is heavy and the tourist earns all he gets out of it.

The hour of starting "the day in Paris" has been moved back a little, another concession to the business. The morning is devoted to the Triumphal Arch and the Unknown Soldier's grave. Napoleon's tomb, the Eiffel tower, the Trocadero, the Chamber of Deputies and the Decorative Arts Exposition. The afternoon itinerary comprises the Louvre, the Pantheon, Notre Dame cathedral, Pere la Chaise cemetery, and a number of lesser attractions.

The whole program includes a night ride through the boulevards and Montmartre.

The party that included the Chicagoan, which the guide said was typical, withstood the morning grind in fairly fresh condition. After lunch they tackled the afternoon job with zest. After a 20-minute fox trot through the Louvre to begin with, they had seen the Mint, the Fine Arts School and the French Institute. They had been made aware of the existence of the Bank of France and the Central Markets from the guide's vague remarks that they were on his left or right. They had a fleeting glimpse of the Palais Royal, which the guide said was built in—but all the dates were lost in the hum of traffic. The Luxembourg palace and gardens were done on the fly, when there was a stop at the Pantheon.

Here were the first signs of lassitude. About a quarter of the tourists remained outside, to the discomfort of the guide who had paid for their admission. "They won't get me that way again," he remarked as the car started for Notre Dame. With a knowing smile the chaplain of the party rose to inquire how many would prefer to see the cathedral and how many would prefer a drink at the cafe opposite. With revealing unanimity the party rushed for the cafe.

"Here's where they finish," said the guide, and the proprietor of the cafe agreed cheerfully that it was so. The balance of the tour was completed by passive consent. At the Pere la Chaise cemetery, one of the most curious and interesting attractions on the program, the guide again asked how many wanted to go through. The response was given only by signs which meant "for everybody's sake let the car move on."

SAY IRISH PRESIDENT PLAYED ROLE AS SPY

Dublin—(AP)—Press reports credited President Cosgrave with unwittingly playing the role of spy during the first army maneuvers of the Free State, which showed the troops to be well trained and equipped. When the fighting was in the neighborhood of the Dublin mountains, not far from his house, President Cosgrave rode out to look on. He was questioned by a young officer as to what care he had passed on the roads and the information the president gave was sufficient to betray the Blue defending force.

After an umpire had reminded the president that civilians were not supposed to divulge valuable army news, President Cosgrave besought the young Red Officer to make no use of the information. With all the affability of a civilian soldier, he consented and put the president at ease.

CURATOR MAYBE FOUND OLD CHEROKEE ABODE

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—What may have been the habitat of the legendary lost-tribe of Cherokee Indians for which the famous Chief Sequoia lost his life in the search in 1848, has been uncovered in Richardson county, Nebraska, by E. E. Blackman, curator of the State Historical society museum.

Prof. Blackman found the remains of an ancient Indian city, together with several pieces of pottery and many chipped flint tools, different from those made by tribes hitherto known to have inhabited that region.

Uncertain articles bear unmistakable signs of Cherokee origin, Mr. Blackman said. This led him to believe it possible that the site was once the location of the lost tribe which legends say split away from the tribal home in southeastern United States and pushed across the Mississippi never to return. The migration is supposed to have taken place before the white man came to America.

"POVERTY ROW" NOW KNOWN AS PROFIT COLONY

Fifty Flourishing Movie Companies Are Located on Misnomer Boulevard

Hollywood—(AP)—More than 50 small independent movie companies, located principally on West Sunset Boulevard, are clustered in what is known as "Poverty Row." But that classification frequently is a misnomer.

Because in this section, where studios are quartered in cramped store rooms and small barn-like frame buildings, are produced at great profit most of the two and three reel films that are seen in theatres on the Main streets of many communities.

"Poverty Row" also is a two-way stepping stone for stars and directors. Here many of the favorite screen stars of today started their careers. Here, too, are employed many of the people who once sat on the throne of popularity.

Whether past or present, the graduates of "Poverty Row" were schooled in a program of economy. Economy is the keynote of production, for seldom does the cost of a feature picture, five reels in length, exceed $7,000. The profits are unusually large, sometimes amounting to as much as 700 percent. A relatively good $7,000 picture may net as much as $25,000, or if it is exceptionally good, it may command up to $50,000.

Many of these companies fail, but there are always others to step into their places.

Because of the high cost of interior settings the photoplays are mostly Westerns, filled with actions and breath-taking thrills, taken with rugged scenery as their background. Very few of the productions are of subtle pictorialization.

Often players of good names, glad to pick up a few hundred dollars for a day's work between engagements at large studios or on a day off, are obtained by the studios to work for one day, thus getting box office names in the east at relatively small expense. The scenes in which these players appear are all shot in the one day.

CHRISTIANITY IN CHINA LOSES FOREIGN STIGMA

New York—(AP)—Christianity is no longer a religion in China upon which the stigma of "foreign" may be placed, despite attacks upon it by some advocates of the "new nationalism," said Ralph A. Ward of Peking, for 16 years a Methodist Episcopal missionary in China, in a report to the board of foreign missions here. Dr. Ward pointed out that many of the leading men of the republic are well known as Christians, and that 2,000,000 Chinese, many of them prominent in public and private life, are enrolled as members of Christian churches.

Small casts are employed. The producer often is versatile, writing, producing and directing a story. He often is the business man in addition to all else and sometimes, if necessary, stars in the picture.

I rose from the table suddenly and faced Jack, when he said that not one of his chums would come to my luncheon on board Mr. Sartoris' yacht.

"What will you let?" I asked angrily. "A hundred dollars for the first one and doubling it up for each succeeding one," he almost shouted angrily. I knew he was too angry quite to realize what his doubling and redoubling would do and so I remarked: "I wonder, Jack, if you know what you are doing. If I let the whole five of those men it will mean thirty-six hundred dollars, you know."

Jack looked surprised, but he was game and he bowed his head, saying, "All right, go ahead."

"Wait a minute, and I'll call them up now," I told him as he pushed back his chair from the table.

"I can't wait another minute, Leslie. I'm late enough at it as it is. A man seems to think that if a man has nothing more to do than to talk polite nothings to her at the breakfast table."

I did not tell my husband that he would have been gone long ago if he had gotten up at the next time. I thought he was being punished enough for the last hour he had drunk the night before.

"All right, Jack. Go ahead!" But bring your check book with you when you come home tonight. I've wanted a gorgeous old Spanish chest that I saw in Duveen's the last time I was in New York. The thirty-six hundred will just pay for it."

Jack said nothing and he left without kissing me. Immediately I hastily called up the wives of the five men and asked them if they could come to luncheon on the yacht Atlantic the next day.

"You don't mean to say, Leslie," said the first one, "that you are inviting me to that gorgeous yacht belonging to Mr. Sartoris. I didn't know you knew him."

"Yes, I do know him and that is the yacht."

"How gorgeous. Of course, I will accept with the greatest of pleasure."

The other four women were just as enthusiastic. Three of them had engagements which they gladly broke to accept my invitation. All of them wanted me to call up their husbands and ask them myself. "He will come if you ask him," each one said in turn, "but if I ask, he will feel called upon to decline because he does not want me to think that he can get away from his business in the middle of the day. It would establish a wrong precedent." (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

APPLETON PRO CAGERS PLAY 1ST GAME DEC. 24

FIVE ROAD GAMES START YEAR FOR KOLB'S QUINTET

Team Will Be Weakened Slightly by Loss of 4 Packer Gridders in Two Opening Battles

Appleton's professional basketball team will play five games on foreign floors before it appears before local fans at Armory 5 late in December, according to the schedule of the Interstate Professional Basketball League, received by Dr. "Doc" C. L. Kolb, manager of the local squad, Wednesday. Six Wisconsin teams, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Oconto, Two Rivers, Beloit and Appleton, are members of the reorganized loop and George Downer of Milwaukee, well-known sport expert, is president. The new schedule calls for Appleton to play every other team of the loop away from home before coming back to this city. Appleton opens the loop season on Dec. 2 at Beloit with crack Beloit Fairies as opponents. On Dec. 4 the locals play at Sheboygan. Dec. 10 at Oconto, Dec. 11 at Two Rivers and Dec. 19 at Fondy. The Beloit Fairies, one of the best squads in the west open the home schedule here on Dec. 24.

20-GAME SCHEDULE
Eleven home games and nine on foreign courts comprise the Appleton 20-game card, which extends to March. The final battle books Appleton at Sheboygan on March 5 and the loop season closes the next night with Beloit at Fond du Lac. The local Beloit has been able to secure Armory 5 for games on Tuesday and Thursday nights and with the first game only a week away will begin work immediately. A classy outfit of new suits has arrived for the Appleton aggregation and its members will present as neat as appearance as any crew in the loop. Such capable officials as A. C. Denny, athletic director at Lawrence college, will handle all league games.

STARS MISS 2 GAMES
The local squad expects to get off to a poor start in the first two games but expects to make it up later. Four of the first five regulars are Green Bay Packer football players and they will be on the Packer's final eastern trip when the season starts. They will be back for the Oconto game on Oct. 10, however, and will begin first form when the local play their first game here with the Fairies as opponents on Oct. 24. With a capable bunch of second stringers, as the Kolbits may win the first games anyway.

The roster of the local club as it stands now, though a few more college players may be added, include Dr. C. L. Kolb, Marquette University, manager; Edward Kotal, Lawrence, Marquette; Phil Jacobson, Lawrence, Donald Bushey, Lawrence and Beloit, and Edward Koll, Appleton high and Kimberly Clark, forwards; Myrtle Tasing, Lawrence, Wilkes, University of Indiana and Kibitz, Lawrence, guards; John McAuliffe, Beloit, center.

PRINCETON OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR NEXT FALL
Princeton's football prospects for next fall are remarkably bright. Of this year's great eleven only a few of the regulars will not return, among them Captain McMillan, Gates and Crago, all linemen. Jake Single, all-around star, still has another season at the Orange and Black institution.

COLORADO HAS GRID STAR IN CARL BROWN

Colorado Springs, Col. — One of the leading scorers in the Rocky Mountain Conference is Carl Brown, great quarterback of the Colorado College eleven. Brown is a star of the first magnitude, being exceptionally brilliant in running through broken fields. He has made several sensational runs this season and in the game with Denver University crossed the goal line three times after long carries. He can also punt and pass with the best in his section.

Brown is somewhat of a celebrity on the track, too, starting in the high hurdles. While at Fort Collins High he held the state scholastic record in the event.

Brown is only a sophomore and seems certain to make an enviable name for himself during his next two football seasons.

BADGER CAGERS WORK FOR YEAR

Hotchkiss of Oshkosh, Old Valley Star, Picked to Start Season for Meanwell Quint

Madison — (AP) — Athletic activity continued unabated at the University of Wisconsin, with basketball supplanting football. The basketball season opens December 4, when North Dakota comes here.

Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, Wisconsin's noted coach, has been developing his squad since early in the fall, until now he has five men under consideration as probable starters in the attempt to regain the honors that slipped last season. Captain Brooks, center and Ralph Merkle, guard, both "W" men, Charles Andrews, a junior, and Hotchkiss and Behr, sophomores, are probable choices for the North Dakota game.

Rollie Barnum, guard and letterman, will be out of the starting lineup due to the short time since the completion of his football work.

The Wisconsin schedule:
Dec. 4—North Dakota Aggies at Madison.
Dec. 12—South Dakota State at Madison.
Dec. 18—Marquette at Milwaukee.
Jan. 2—DePaul at Madison.
Jan. 5—Minnesota at Madison.
Jan. 11—Indiana at Madison.
Jan. 16—Chicago at Madison.
Jan. 23—Northwestern at Madison.

Feb. 13—Chicago at Chicago.
Feb. 16—Northwestern at Evanston.
Feb. 20—Purdue at Madison.
Feb. 22—Michigan at Ann Arbor.
Feb. 26—Purdue at Lafayette.
March 1—Michigan at Madison.

13 GRIDDERS END CAREERS AT M. U.

Madison — (AP) — In the only football encounter of major importance to be played in Wisconsin Thursday, Marquette university completes its season with a tilt with Mercer university of Macon, Ga., at Marquette stadium.

Thirteen Marquette players will close their football career in the game. They are Dilweg and Flaherty, ends; Captain Lane, Cartwright, and Emory, tackles; Fabray and Tipton, fullbacks; Moran, fullback; Carter, center and Demoling, quarterbacks; Lehtifuss, Heimsch and Skemp, halfbacks.

Why should this be true? I once asked that question of two of the game's greatest managers, Connie Mack and John McGraw.

"To be a success in the majors the athlete must like baseball better than all other sports; he must love to play the game. The college football-balls ball star seldom does," said Mack.

"Most college players fail to take their baseball seriously," said McGraw. "It seems a good many of them are willing to take a shot at the big leagues simply to acquire a bank roll to help satisfy some other ambition."

What McGraw and Mack had to say about the college player interested me. I decided to make a thorough investigation.

During the summer in my travels over the American League circuit, I am constantly in touch with the Stars of that organization; incidentally I run into many of the celebrities of the National league.

Picking out a dozen players who had starred in baseball and football,

DEFEATED TEAM WINS TITLE FOR 2ND TIME IN 29

Michigan and Illinois Share Honor of Taking Championship With Sullied Record

Chicago — (AP) — For the second time in the 29 years of Western Conference football history, the conference championship goes to a team that has been defeated. In 1919, Illinois, though defeated by Michigan earlier in the season, won from an undefeated Ohio State team in the closing game and was acknowledged champion.

This year, the title honors are divided between Michigan and Northwestern, each with only one defeat, 3 to 2, in the mud of Grant Park Stadium, Chicago, on Nov. 7.

The 1925 title of Western Conference football champion is the ninth which Michigan has won, alone or jointly with other teams. It is the second for Northwestern in the 29 years of conference history.

Minnesota ranks next to Michigan in number of titles with seven. Chicago has six, Wisconsin five, Illinois six, Iowa three and Purdue one, in 1918, when they were the only undefeated team by virtue of their victory over Chicago in their conference game.

COE CAGERS PLAY BELOIT JAN. 8

Millsmen-Kohawk Battle Opens Midwest Conference Court Season in Wisconsin

Milwaukee — (AP) — Official opening of the state normal school conference basketball season is set for Jan. 15, with two games scheduled as openers. The first game is between the Milwaukee normal school meets Eau Claire normal at Eau Claire and Superior engages Stout at Menominee, Wis.

On the following day Stevens Point opens its season with Eau Claire at Stevens Point while Superior goes to River Falls for its initial conference game.

The Midwest conference season opens earlier, however, with Coe college of Cedar Rapids the first opponent of a Badger member. Coe plays at Beloit college on Jan. 8. On the next night, Ripon college encounters Carleton at Northfield, Minn.

Local managers will meet with the district member of the board of control on February 27 for the purpose of selecting tournament teams.

The awards in the district tournaments will consist of gold, silver and bronze medals for the eight members of the teams winning first, second and third places.

In the state tournament, the awards will include trophies for the teams winning the championship and consolation games, gold, silver and bronze medals for eight members each of the first, second and third place teams, and silver and bronze medals for members of the first and second place teams in consolation.

The state meet will be held in the University of Wisconsin gymnasium and reduced railroad fares are being sought for the sixteen teams that will come to Madison. Entertainment is provided for the teams and other visiting high school pupils by the university. The teams will be guests at a banquet, and the coaches and officials will have a breakfast meeting on the morning of March 24.

Should the national tournament conducted under the auspices of the University of Chicago receive the sanction of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Association, of which Wisconsin is a member, the board of control will sanction.

The once famous "Big Three" dropped four games to outside schools during the 1925 season. Harvard was defeated by Holy Cross and Dartmouth; Yale lost to Penn and Princeton was tripped by Colgate. The Tigers also had a tie tilt with Navy.

"BIG THREE" LOST 4 GAMES TO OUTSIDERS

while in college, I asked them which of the games they preferred to play. Nine of the players said football was the most interesting game in all the world to them. Two said they liked baseball, while a lone one said it was a toss-up with him.

The player who called it a draw as a reason was Eddie Collins, one of the college football-basball lights who has developed into one of the outstanding celebrities of the majors. While at Columbia University Collins starred on the grid and diamond.

"I still like my football," said Collins, "even though I haven't played in a game in over 20 years. I satisfy my appetite for the strenuous sport by taking in all the big games every fall."

"I also like my baseball equally well, but there is a thrill that a fellow gets out of football while in college that is lacking in all other sports."

The records of both major leagues show a long list of football-basball stars who have failed to make the grade in the big show.

Among them are such noted athletes as Jim Thorpe of Carlisle, Glenn Killinger and Hinkle Haines of Penn State, Hoge Workman of Ohio State, Jack Blott of Michigan, Caldwell of Princeton, Castner and Mohardt of Notre Dame.

All of them will tell you they like their football much better than baseball. They are shy the spirit of the game so necessary to success in the majors.

His star guard on the Tulane University eleven. Down below the Mason and Dixon line they call him the "South's greatest player." He never wears a headscarf and exerts with sleeves rolled up. In his three seasons of collegiate football he has not been taken out of the game once for injury. Many experts opine he's an All-American caliber.

High School Cage Teams Prepare For Busy Season

Madison — (AP) — High school basketball teams of Wisconsin are preparing for an extensive program of competition in the state tournament in Madison, March 24 to 27.

Many of the schools in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association, both large and small, will have an opportunity to play in district and supplementary tournaments. Plans for the 1926 competition were announced by P. F. Neverman, Marinette, secretary of the association.

The state meet will be preceded by sixteen district tournaments, to be held March 10 to 13. The platteville and River Falls tournaments are scheduled for March 10, 11 and 12, while those in Appleton, Rhinelander, Ashland, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Marquette, Milwaukee, Monroe, Oshkosh, Rice Lake, Two Rivers, Watertown, Whitewater and Stevens Point, will be held on March 11, 12 and 13.

Local managers will meet with the district member of the board of control on February 27 for the purpose of selecting tournament teams.

The awards in the district tournaments will consist of gold, silver and bronze medals for the eight members of the teams winning first, second and third places.

In the state tournament, the awards will include trophies for the teams winning the championship and consolation games, gold, silver and bronze medals for eight members each of the first, second and third place teams, and silver and bronze medals for members of the first and second place teams in consolation.

The state meet will be held in the University of Wisconsin gymnasium and reduced railroad fares are being sought for the sixteen teams that will come to Madison. Entertainment is provided for the teams and other visiting high school pupils by the university. The teams will be guests at a banquet, and the coaches and officials will have a breakfast meeting on the morning of March 24.

Should the national tournament conducted under the auspices of the University of Chicago receive the sanction of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Association, of which Wisconsin is a member, the board of control will sanction.

The once famous "Big Three" dropped four games to outside schools during the 1925 season. Harvard was defeated by Holy Cross and Dartmouth; Yale lost to Penn and Princeton was tripped by Colgate. The Tigers also had a tie tilt with Navy.

BACCARAT FAD RULES ON EMERALD COAST

Dinard — (AP) — Baccarat was the favorite game this season on the Emerald coast of France, with a boule running a close second. La boule surprised Baccarat at some of the smaller casinos.

Gambling at all the resorts—Dinard, Saint-Malo, Plurane and Saint Leger—netted a profit of $2,251,687 francs. Of this the state receives 1,958,100 francs. The cities in which the casinos are located also receive part of the earnings.

Gambling was slightly heavier this year on the Emerald coast than it was last year, when the earnings of the casinos were 4,030,288 francs.

Ohio State hasn't whipped Michigan at football since 1921, when it tripped the Yostmen, 14-0. In fact, the Buckeyes have only scored once since then, getting a touchdown last year. Over the same period the Wolverines have counted 68 points.

Neverman Says Criticism Of Press Hurts Athletics In Wisconsin Prep Schools

"Game Is Thing, Winning Secondary to Physical Value," According to Secretary

Marquette — (AP) — Deploping certain types of criticism of athletics by newspapers, P. F. Neverman, secretary of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association declares the game is the big thing and while winning is desired by all and is the thing we work for at all times, it is after all, secondary to the development of boys and girls, physically fit for life.

"Without the active support of the press, high school athletics would not be anywhere near as strong as they are today," Mr. Neverman said. While the power of the press is very much appreciated by all school people and while also many, in fact, most newspapers support the athletic teams of the school at all times, there are some who are interested only while the home team wins. Before the opening of the season the prospects of a 'championship' team are discussed at length—the coach is declared to be a wonder—the material is called exceptional—in fact, nothing can stop the 'high school' from winning the 'championship' of this or that. The value of high school athletics, as a part of the Physical Education program, is never mentioned, good sportsmanship, as the first essential, is never even thought of, the predominating thought being to 'win all the games.'

As soon as the first game is lost the 'hammer' begins its steady if not as yet hard 'knocking.' After the second game has been lost a white goes forth from the paper which would make an unimpaired believe that the coach is an awful failure and that the boys must be having down. The coach is generally looking for a demand for the resignation of the coach and if anyone in the school system has the nerve to stand up for those in charge of athletics, a general house cleaning is suggested. VOCATION CAGE MEN START WORK

Strongest Group of Candidates in Years Out to Make Team as Kimball-st Institution

Cagers of Appleton vocational school have started work for a hard season with one of the most promising groups of youths ever to represent the local institution. Workouts are being held each week with fundamentals being stressed at present. All of the boys are working hard and chances for a winning team are bright. The squad may get into a four-team loop this year with the three junior high schools of the city as rivals and plans are being made for this year's league to be held in the fall with the approval of the local athletic authorities.

Among the men working out with the Kimball-st crew are Verbeeten, Weiland, Muenster, Koepsel, Bowers and Eggert. Verbeeten is one of the best youngsters in the valley, having been a star forward for the Kimberly Holy Name Society squad and the strong Kimberly Independents for several years. Muenster has been the mainstay of the vocational team for two years and Weiland also is an old man. Bowers, Koepsel and Eggert were three of the most promising youngsters in the high school last year. All three starred on their freshman class team and Koepsel and Eggert held down berths on the Orange seconds. Eggert was slated for a guard berth on the Orange varsity this year, his second of high school basketball, but he left school.

Several outside games will be scheduled including two with the Fond du Lac vocational school crew. Old rivals, Fondy always has a strong team developed by a paid coach, especially for the job, but the local boys had always broken even on past games until last year when an extra strong Fondy team squared off against them twice in easy fashion. Fondy has about the same team back, but Appleton will be much stronger and are determined to get revenge. F. Martin of the school faculty, manages the local boys. An entire new outfit of suits will be on hand when the season starts.

GAMES

Best Fullback

Coast critics say Rogers of Stanford is the best fullback in that section.

Big Golf Prizes

Florida as a winter attraction for sport lovers is again offering fancy prizes to tempt pro golfers to compete there.

Champion Teams

No one seems to dispute the right of Dartmouth to be classed as the champion team of the universe.

Work for Landis

A number of big league ball players have signed to play basketball in the new two league. More worry for the magnates and work for Judge Landis.

Princeton Star

Captain McMillan of this year's great Princeton eleven is one of the best centers the Tigers ever boasted.

Pointed for Yale

A tie with the Navy and a defeat at the hands of Calicut, make it seem Princeton pointed for Harvard and Yale.

Sure of Honor

An All-America team that doesn't contain the names of Grange and Oberlander, will result in an investigation of the sanity of the picker.

Sister Issues Defi

George Sisler says his eyes are as good as ever again and that the player who wins the American League batting honors will have to beat him.

Hoppe's Kind Words

Willie Hoppe, ex-champion, says Jake Schaefer is the best of all billiard players. That is a fitting remark since he trimmed the great Hoppe.

Weak on Passes

Inability to develop a defense for the forward pass is Coach Dobbs' greatest weakness. In other respects his Cornell teams are always mighty proficient.

Real Battle

The Army and Navy game of this year should be a corker. Both teams have had poor years. Victory in that game raises previous failures.

Tryon Is Consistent

Eddie Tryon, Colgate halfback, has been one of the most consistent performers on the gridiron during his three years of play.

All Seek Grange

Since the opening of the football season "Red" Grange has received over 100 invitations to speak at various athletic events. He has refused them all.

IOWA COLLEGES FIGHT FOR INTERSTATE TITLE

Chicago—(AP)—The Western Interstate conference football title is the stake in the Thanksgiving day game between Luther, Decorah, Iowa, and Columbia, Dubuque, since the 12-12 tie between DePaul, Chicago, and La Crosse, Wis., eliminated the Chicago eleven.

Luther is undefeated in the conference while Columbia has lost one tied another. DePaul has to defeat either Luther or La Crosse, which has played but one conference game.

ONLY TWO LETTER MEN BACK AT CHI

Maroons Forced to Build 1926 Cage Squad Out of 1925 Reserves and Sophomores

Chicago—Official basketball practice at the University of Chicago will start the Monday following Thanksgiving. Coach Norgren who is now returning from Japan with the baseball team will arrive the first of December, and take charge immediately. Twenty candidates are expected to answer his call. A number of these men are now working out daily under the direction of Coach Herbert (Fritz) Crisler. They are rapidly getting into shape and should be in good form by the time that Coach Norgren returns. Several of the strongest candidates are now on the football team. The school's 25 candidate for forward, now playing quarterback, Wally Marks of substitute guard last year is playing regular halfback on the football team; while Austin McCarthy '25, another candidate for guard, is star fullback. These men are in fine physical condition, and will turn to basketball following the close of the football season.

Only two "C" men are left from last year's basketball squad: Capt. "Rube" Allen '24 star center, who has been rated for two years among the best centers in the conference, and "Rube" Abbott, forward. Marks and McCarthy, guard, and Henry Sackett, forward, will again be available, but with this meagre showing of veterans Coach Norgren will be forced to rely a great deal on untied sophomores.

The Chicago team this year promises to be very green, and will lack good natural shooters. Coach Norgren will have to start at the foundation by building up a good defense. On offense, he will be forced to develop a strong passing game, for the squad lacks good dribblers.

ORANGE STARTS CLASS CAGE WORK

Coach McAuliffe Gets Line on Prospects for Orange Varsity in Interclass Rivalry

With the football season at Appleton high school closed with the Marquette-Appleton game this afternoon Coach Mac McAuliffe's athletes will turn their attention to basketball during the next week. Practices will be held for an interclass meet, after which varsity practice will start. Several valley conference teams, especially Fondy, with short grid cards, already are at work on the cage game and will hold a decided practice advantage over the Orange.

The class journey is for the purpose of developing prospects for the first squad and Mac will keep his eyes peeled for promising material at the battles. With only three teams entered this year due to the junior highs, each class will meet the two others once in the meet. Capt. Robert Doherty, Ashman who coached the seniors to a school title as juniors last year, will handle this squad and will try to repeat. Proficiency will coach the juniors and Knop, the seniors. Voreck, the only other basketball letter man in the school, will act in some official capacity during the meet. Bob Grant and Warren Wright of the school faculty will handle the whistles in the meet and Wenzel, assistant coach, and Bender will act as timekeeper and scorer.

The seniors with such players as Steenis, 1925 grid captain, Stammer, a regular orange case in 1924, and Packard, McCanna, Crowe, Schultz and Steinberg of last year's orange seconds, are favored to win with the other teams given a chance at the hunting.

U. S. C. IN 3 TILTS AFTER TURKEY DAY

University of Southern California, unlike most of the other big schools, eleven has three tilts scheduled after Thanksgiving Day. Howard Johnson eleven has three tilts scheduled after Nov. 26. On Nov. 28, it will meet Washington State; Dec. 5, Oregon Aggies and on Dec. 12, St. Mary's.

WILSON-ORANGE 2ND GRID BATTLE IS OFF

The battle between the grid team representing Wilson high school and the Appleton high school second squad which was to have been waged Wednesday afternoon at Lawrence field was called off. Whether the two squads will get together to decide the supremacy in local grid circles in the next week has not been announced.

BROWNS HOLD ONE REAL DISTINCTION

Brown University can at least claim one honor, and that is standing as the only team to hold the powerful Portsmouth appropriation to less than 30 points. The Big Green could garner but 14 against the little Providence eleven.

POLICE ARREST AUTOIST FOR DRIVING TOO FAST

Ray Hanes, 667 W. College-ave was arrested on W. Prospect-ave Wednesday afternoon by Chief of Police George T. Prim and Officer John K. Hansen for exceeding the speed limit. He is charged with traveling 35 miles an hour. He will be arraigned in municipal court Friday morning.

Whirligig doubles are slated for Friday and Saturday on the Elk alleys with several star pinsters lined up. The competition promises to be close all the way.

The talks and the dates they will be given are as follows: Monday, Nov. 30—"The Masters Keynote." Rev. Ira Schlagenhauf, Neenah.

The training school is under the supervision of E. E. Emme and is being conducted by the Methodist Board of Education. Dr. D. O. Kinsman is dean of the school, the Rev. Richard Evans is chairman of promotion, Herbert Hellig is chairman of local arrangements, and Miss Esther Miller is registrar.

The faculty will consist of Prof. J. R. Denyes of Lawrence college, E. E. Emme, the Rev. Richard Evans, superintendent of the Appleton district of the Methodist Episcopal church, T. Ross Hicks, director of adult work in the department of church schools, Chicago, Miss Edith McMillan, elementary specialist from the department of church schools, Chicago; Mrs. Ada Stair, young people specialist from the department of church schools, Chicago.

The following six courses will be offered: Primary, intermediate, Bible instruction, principles of religious teaching, adult methods, and educational missions. Persons desiring to enroll in the school are to register at the Methodist church. Text books can be secured at the church.

TWO SCOUT TROOPS WILL TAKE HIKE ON FRIDAY

Boys scouts of troop No. 4, American legion, and No. 5, All Saints church, will go on a hike Friday. They will be accompanied by P. O. Hikers will assemble at headquarters at 10 o'clock bringing materials with which to cook their noon lunch. The program for the day will include outdoor tests, cooking, tracking and other activities.

HOLD HUSBAND FOR BEATING HIS WIFE

Arrested on the complaint of his wife, Max Dumke, 314 W. Foster-st., is being held at police headquarters on an assault and battery charge. He was arrested at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Detective Sergt. Matthew M. McGinnis.

THE CHOSEN

Miss Elinor Kountz, 19, daughter of Charles T. Kountz, multi-millionaire banker of Omaha, Neb., is the 51st annual queen of Ak-Sar-Ben of Omaha. Each year the most beautiful girl in Omaha's wealthy and socially prominent families is chosen for this honor, and this year she's the lucky one.

Harshington, Pa. (AP)—Three conferences in which Governor Pinchot, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and Major W. W. Inglis, chairman of the operator's wage committee, participated here Wednesday night left the anthracite situation apparently unchanged Thursday.

Governor Pinchot conferred separately with the leaders of the operators and the miners and Mr. Lewis and Major Inglis met at a hotel between the two conferences with the executive.

From none of the participants came any inkling of what was discussed or whether any steps were taken looking toward settlement of the suspension which has tied up hard coal operations since Sept. 1. Both Major Inglis and Mr. Lewis made it plain that they came here at the invitation of the governor who said he invited them in order to keep himself informed of the situation. Twice before he called the two into conference each time for the same announced purpose.

Chicago, Ill. (AP)—Two men and a girl were captured and another man was thought killed early Thursday when scores of policemen ambushed a gang just as they exploded a bomb which wrecked a hardware store.

Miss Lee McMillan Columbus, Ohio, Fred Walbridge and Joseph Ayers were those arrested. The men were charged about the bomb in the chase that followed the explosion. The supposed dead man was believed thrown from the bomber's automobile before it was overtaken.

RUNAWAY GIRL

Isabel Bennett, 15, a second cousin of the late President Harding, disappeared from her home in New York City. She was found two days later in Norfolk, Va., where she had gone with a girl friend to see the sights of the sunny south.

As Easy As Rolling Off A Log

That's a very easy thing to do-but not a bit easier than it is to find the exact item you are seeking in the Post-Crescent A-B-C Classified Section.

Your eyes just naturally roll down these orderly columns until they light upon the offer you are after.

The alphabetical indexes and the numerical classifications prevent you from flying off at tangents to your real purpose-and the index terms of each individual and say as plainly as possible, "Here I am, ready and waiting for you."

If this is not a simple and easy way of finding things-nothing is.

You'd better look through this section every day-not only because it's easy, but also because it's profitable!
